Let's Start!

Travel is exciting!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- What ancient sites do you know about in your country?
- Do you want to visit one? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can report about things, actions, events, or people.
- I can ask and talk about intentions and plans.
- I can ask who, what, when, where questions.

Let's Explore!

John calls to catch up with Sally.

* To "catch up" means to talk about things we don't know when someone is away.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John: How is Amsterdam?

Sally: It's fun. I went on the ghost tour in the old city. This morning I explored the flower market.

John: What's it like?

Sally: It's called a floating market, but it's not. There are houseboats on the water near the market.

John: What are you going to do for the rest of the day?

Sally: I could rent a bike but it's raining right now.

John: How about the Van Gogh museum? It's indoors.

Sally: Maybe. Where are you going to be next?

John: I'm going to head to Mexico with the cruise ship.

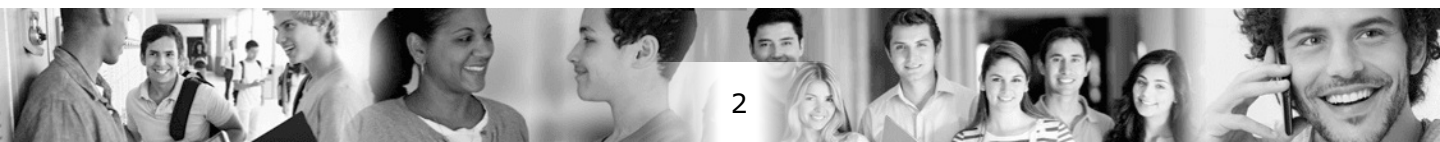

Sally: When do you get in?

John: Late tomorrow night. I'm going to go to bed early. Tomorrow is my day off!

Sally: Great!

John: I'm going to a Mayan site to climb the pyramid!

Sally: . Cool!
