

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's relax and send an e-mail to a friend!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- How often do you e-mail people?
- How often do you text them?
- Which way do you prefer to communicate? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about plans and intentions.
- I can give extended warnings, recommendations, or advice.
- I can make suggestions.

Let's Explore!

Sally is upset when she e-mails Vanessa. Why?

* When you are "upset" you feel distress and think something is wrong.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Hey Vanessa,

How about sending me an e-mail? I'm going to call you soon. If you don't write, I get worried! If you don't have much time, just send a line or two. John is going to be arriving in Mexico any day now. Peter is having girl trouble. That's nothing new!

I'm going to visit the tulip fields near Amsterdam tomorrow. I'm taking a small tour with some nice people I met on a cruise. If you ever get a chance, come here. The food is good and so fresh. I'm coming back home to visit New York before I go to LA. Then, I'm off to China! When I stop in San Francisco, we can catch up.

Write!

Sally

Let's Practice!

Sally is writing to Vanessa.

Instructions: Read the text again. Select the correct answer.

1. Vanessa doesn't write. Sally says ...

- ☐ How about e-mails!
- ☐ How are the e-mails!
- ☐ How about sending me an e-mail?

3. Sally talks about Peter. She says ...

- ☐ Peter is having girl trouble.
- ☐ Peter's girl is trouble.
- ☐ Peter is traveling with a girl.

2. Sally talks about the food in Amsterdam. She says ...

- ☐ You try food it here!
- ☐ You should try the food!
- ☐ You can't try the food here.

Let's Practice!

What does Sally intend to do?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

1. I'm taking a tour with before I go to LA.

2. I'm going to call you soon.

3. John is going to be fields near Amsterdam tomorrow.

4. I'm coming back home

some nice people.

5. I'm going to visit the tulip arriving in Mexico any day now.

Extension Activity

Write an e-mail.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- You are away from home. Write an e-mail to a friend.
- Tell them about your trip.
- Say what you are going to do next.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write an e-mail to a friend about a trip.

☐ ☐

I write about what's going to happen next on my trip.

☐ ☐

I talk about my intentions.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- worried (adjective): feeling anxious and upset
e.g. I get worried when you don't e-mail me!
- a line or two (expression): one or two written sentences
e.g. Please write a line or two so I know you are okay!
- any day now (expression): sometime soon
e.g. They are leaving any day now.
- field (noun): an open space in the countryside
e.g. There are fields and fields of tulips near Amsterdam!
- ever (adverb): at any time
e.g. Do you ever go out for pizza?
- That's nothing new! (expression): this happens all the time e.g. She's late again? That's nothing new!
- girl trouble (expression): romantic problems with girls
e.g. He always has some girl trouble!

Learning Points

The Present Continuous vs. Going To for the Future

You use the Present Continuous tense for things that are booked in the future. This can be a hotel reservation or an appointment with a doctor.

You use Going to + verb to talk about intentions. These are things you want to do in the future. There is no booking or appointment.

The Present Continuous	Going To
I'm coming back home to New York.	I'm going to call you soon.
I'm taking a small tour with some nice people tomorrow.	John is going to arrive in Mexico any day now.

The Zero Conditional

You can use the Simple Present tense in a zero conditional sentence.

When can often take the place of if.

You can use the Imperative with a zero conditional sentence.

Examples:

- If you don't write, I get worried! (Simple Present)
When you don't write, I get worried!
- If you get a chance, come here. (Imperative)
When you get a chance, come here.
- If you like flowers, Holland is the country to visit.
When you like flowers, Holland is the country to visit.

